WILLIAM H. TIMBERS
 PRINCIPAL

BRUCE STRYHAS
 ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

For over a quarter of a century, Mr. Arthur Beriau has served as a Custodian at the Rutland Senior High School.

During that time, he has seen many hundreds of students complete their education. Always ready to lend a helping hand to students and to teachers, we found Art to be a very accomodating person.

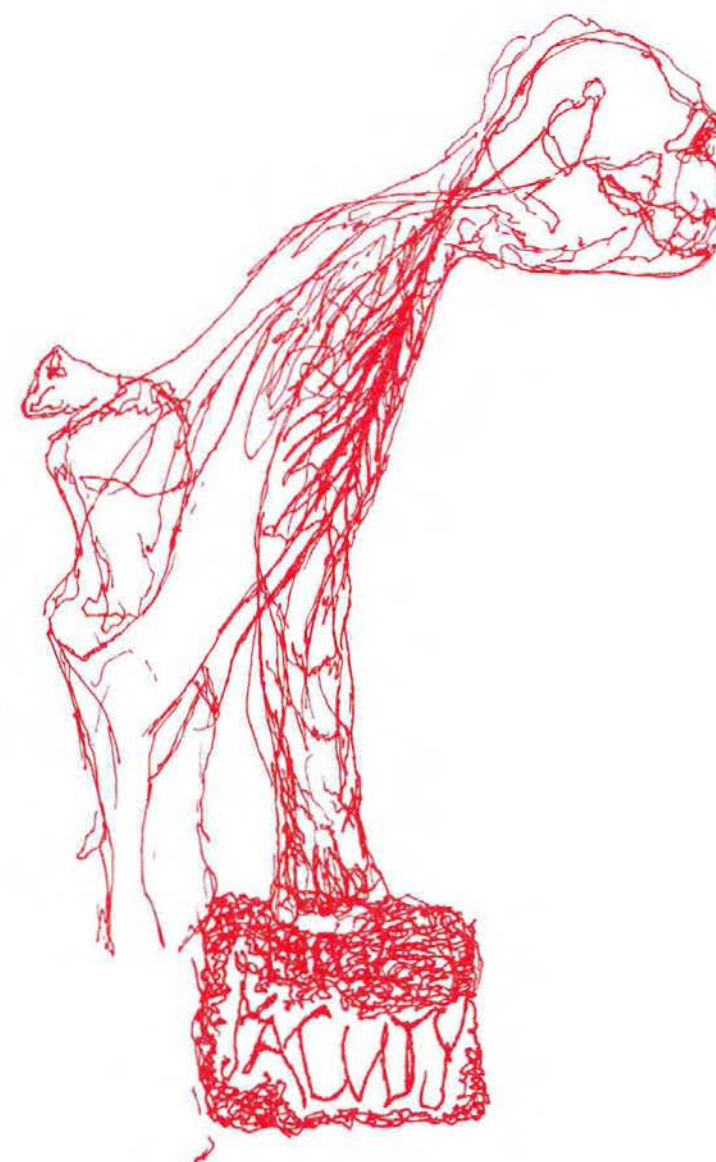

Everyone associated with the school appreciates the time and effort that Art put into his work. In retirement, we wish him the best of health and many years of enjoyment.

We extend to him our best wishes.

Sincerely,
William H. Timbers

Rutland alternative high school

Every year, the clubs and social activities, play a smaller role in the "goings on" at Rutland High School. The International Relations Club, The Foreign Language Clubs, Dramatics Club, Debate Club, why is it that these clubs, which, at one time, were an important part of the social activities of H.H.S. no longer are formed or even considered. Only athletics, music, and V.I.C.A. seem to be holding the interest of the student population. Even the Talisman, with an increase in the student body has sold only as many yearbooks as last year, and the Red and White, which is in a far from secure position, have lost their formerly high standing with a large percentage of the students.

Why is it that the students of Rutland High no longer find clubs necessary to take up their spare time.

The answers to all of these can be traced to the very liberal policies regarding the high school. Students no longer must go from eight o'clock in the morning till three in the afternoon. With open campus a student need not be in school when he does not have a class. Even a student's schedule can be arranged to allow for work or other outside school activities. This policy has been beneficial to many students, but has lowered school morale immensely. School is not a major part of every student's life anymore but for many a commitment of only a couple hours out of every week-day.

KEY CLUB

We are sorry to announce that this is the first year in many years that there has been no Key Club at Rutland High School. In the past, the club put on dances and sales, and has helped in fund raising drives. But, due to various circumstances, the club has disbanded.

The club started going downhill last year due to poor leadership, lack of order at meetings, and lack of interest. This year added problems as no faculty advisor, and lack of knowledge on the part of the officers.

Hopefully the senior class of 1974 will be able to get the club on its feet again.

TALISMAN

You are now judging the proof of our work. Only you can decide whether we succeeded or failed: whether we produced a book worthy of the memories portrayed in it, or whether we have only partially succeeded. We can only tell you that if we have failed, then it was not due to lack of effort.

Talisman '73 was compiled not by one or two, but by a great many students. Students, such as our editors; Barb Bloomfield and Danny Repeta, (layout), Steve Keenan and Tara Van Wyke, (art), Chuck Borst and Sue Alfonso, (photo), Jeff White and Jeff Icken, (business), Donna Dilonno and Denise Bateman, (Sr. Section and Underclassmen), Pete Mickel, (sports), Terri Livak, (clubs and activities), and Lynn Trepener, (faculty).

In addition to the editors, there were those who worked just as hard but had no title, such as; Beth Watson, Janet Wesson, Tom Freund, Mike Rosen, Dave Baird, Darrell Goodwin, Debbie Berretta, and a host of others to numerous to mention.

We took on the burden of deadlines, internal "disagreements", technical difficulties, guinea pigs, and various minor disasters in the creation of this book so that you might have a tangible memory of your years at RHS. We only hope that you, the readers, will enjoy reminiscing over this book as much as we will, and that you consider our efforts to have been worthwhile.

RED AND WHITE

The RED & WHITE staff led by Joe Squier, Editor-in-Chief, Mary Merchand, Business Manager, Andy Chesley, News Editor, Jon Cook, Sports Editor, and Debbie Munger and Adele Pingree, Feature Editors produced twelve student orientated issues this year. The news staff covered such events as the construction of the new Vocational-Technical School, the Cotillion, and also sponsored a school, mock, presidential election in November. Sports writers covered school athletics with special attention given to the M.S. J. Football Victory. The Feature Section gave attention to each holiday with original stories, poetry and art.

The Editors sought to improve the Newspaper by printing more interesting stories and better photographs. Many students were asked to write stories so that the paper could cover a variety of interests.

Producing the RED & WHITE involves much work and dedication, but the students enjoyed their work and felt that they had learned from their experience.

SCIENCE

Many of the ambitions of physics lie in recreating, in another media, what man experiences. Thus much like the poet or painter relaying an experience through their particular medias, the physicist attempts to fit an explanation of his world through mathematics, providing the necessary complement to the subjective recreations of the classical arts.

The morphology and life systems of all biological organisms is strictly defined by it's environmental medium. Whether it be air, water, or subterrian, each organisms has been shaped by its immediate environment and exists in a delicate system of interrelationships with the other organisms in the community. In the investigation of the aquatic environment it is not possible to directly explore these interrelationships, but thorough understanding can be obtained through a quantitative analysis of cause and effect. By measuring fluxuations in both physical and biological phenomena this delicate balance can be reconstructed and examined for use in our own world.

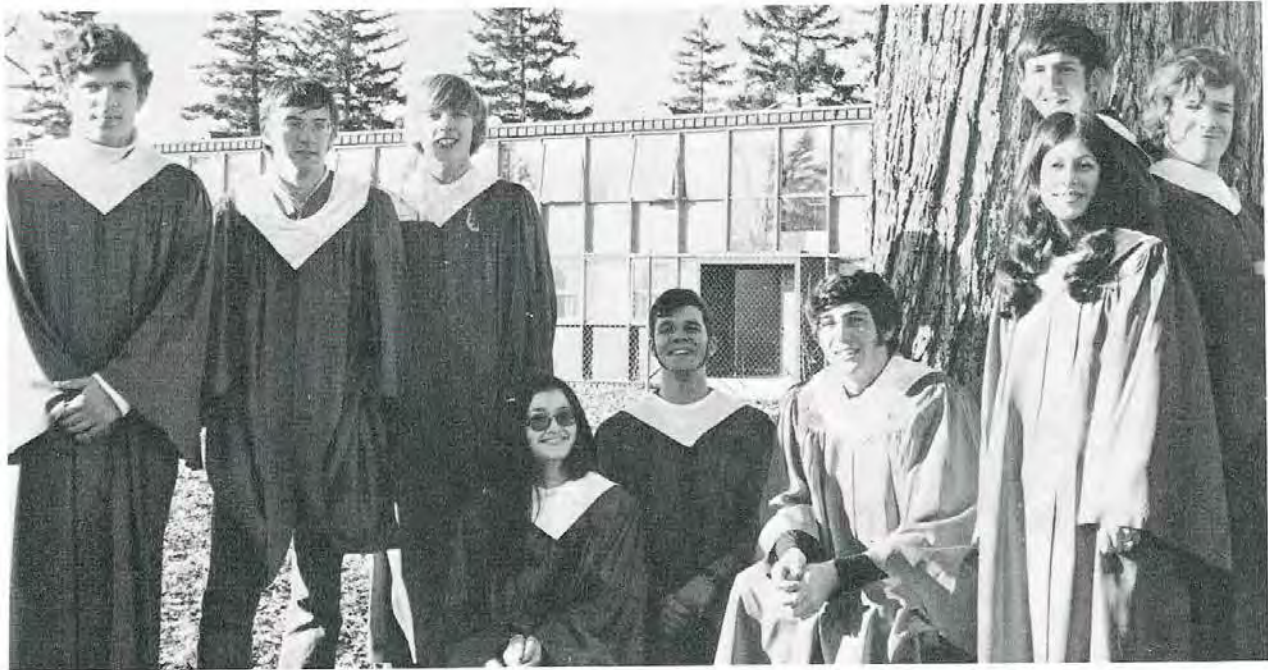

GALACTIC EVOLUTION

My investigation deals with the various shapes of galaxies and their evolutionary relationships. It has been well known by astronomers that two basic classes of galaxies exist in the universe, spirals and elliptical. Equally well known is the possibility that these two galactic types are related evolutionary histories. If so which type of galaxy is the earlier stage of the evolutionary sequence? After several years work classifying and recording well over 1,600 galaxies I have found conclusive evidence supporting the elliptical galaxy being the earlier stage of evolutionary development. By observing the percentages of the two galactic types periodically at unceasing distances from our galaxy we can effectively look into the past phases of galactic evolution.

My study showed that the percentage of ellipticals to other galaxies climbed by more than twenty-five percent in the survey of galaxies one hundred million light years away. Mydiscovery has lead me to believe that our galaxy, the Milky Way, was once elliptical in shape over a million years ago.

GYMNASTICS

The Rutland High Gymnastics Team with coach Patti Stewart came a long way since its beginnings in November. With the added assistance of Mr. Rippon and Marcia Roberge, the young team consisting mostly of sophomores improved greatly within a few months.

Although the gymnastics team did not make a good showing in competition, with the determination, enthusiasm and potential shown by its members, Rutland High will certainly have a winning team in the near future.

The members include: ninth grader Beth Hull; tenth graders Donna Merrow, Loren Beauchamp, Marcia Bruce, co-captain Linda Ransom, Linda Griselli, Debbi Miglis, Barb Tannen, Pam Trapeni, Pepper Sneff, Sue McLeod and Manager Barb Smith; eleventh graders Karen Kingsbury and Ginger Sneff; and twelfth grader, co-captain Beth Dulli.

The 1972-73 Rutland High School Raiderettes ended a successful season with a 14-0 record. Six seniors and nine underclassmen, coached by Ms. Barb Grycel, led the team to first place in the league and to the State Playoffs.

Despite many unfavorable conditions, the Raiderettes still kept up the spirit and continued winning. Rutland High School Displayed more school spirit this year and this certainly had a positive effect in helping the girls to compete a successful season.

BASKETBALL

The RHS basketball squad regained its claim as one of Southern Vermont's hoop powerhouses this year and with due fairness had to be compared with the top teams throughout the state of Vermont. Blessed with perhaps the tallest team in the region, Coach James Leamy's timbers were an overwhelming rebounding force. Redwoods such as all Southern Vermont center, captain David Drazin, starters Tom Fitzgeralds and Jeff White, reinforced by top reserve Mike Tyl made it hard to believe the Redmen were conquerable. However, the Raiders had their share of talent in the back court. Starters Gary Robertson and Mark Benetatos were spotted by the fine play of Brad Wolk and Bill Cioffredi at guards, complementing the Raider front to shape what appeared to be the class of the Southern Vermont League.

Though the Raiders claim to success resulted from playing winning basketball, the harmonious atmosphere of mutual respect which enclosed the players made basketball fun rather than burdensome. A preseason expedition to Ouy Island, N.Y. proved an invaluable experience both as a basketball conditioner and as an opportunity to make new acquaintances. The trip reciprocated earlier visits to the Rutland City Holiday Festival by Calhoun H.S. and Lawrence H.S. The Redman entertained Abinton, Mass. H.S. and Rockland, Mass. H.S. in this season's festival.

SKI TEAM

This year the ski-team welcomed the addition of a new member to its coaching staff. Mr. Gregg McClellun became the third member of the staff, along with Gene Poplawski and Albert Martin. Along with Mr. McClellun came a new and tougher outlook towards the value of conditioning, and hopes for a championship team.

The three facets of competition each had their individual leaders, John Dolan was the leading cross-country man, Joe Paskevich led the jumpers, and John Higgins and Darrell Goodwin were the premier alpine racers.

Apparently the conditioning paid off, for the raider skiers won the Southern Vermont Championship, placed third in the state Championships, and attended the New England competition.

With a young and determined team, the coaching staff have hopes for several more fine years of competition in the future.

INDOOR TRACK

For the first time in 10 years, Rutlands' indoor track team was headed by a new coach. To the disappointment of many, veteran coach Mr. Short retired after leading last years team to a state championship. His successor, Mr. Eaton, has worked hard in transforming a young and relatively inexperienced team into strong contenders for the state championship.

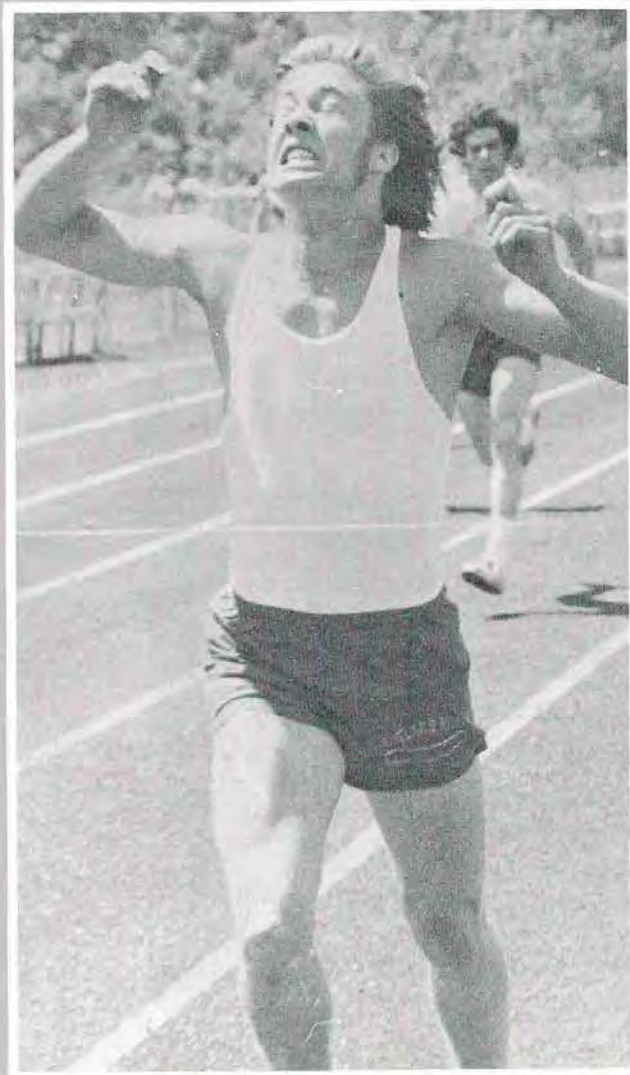

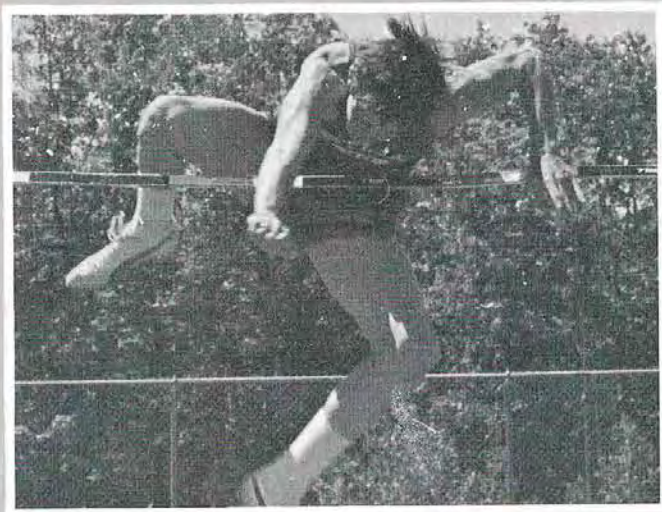

Impressive wins in the UVM Winter Invitational meet and the Northern New England qualifying meet at Dartmouth has given Rutland the slight edge for the state meet. However, strong opposition is expected from Springfield, South Burlington, Burlington and Belows Falls.

Returning letterman and their events include Seniors, Joe Canty (50 yd., 300 yd. mile relay), Lenny Gluck (600 yd., long jump, mile relay), Jim McKeon (45 yd., hurdles, 600 yd); Juniors, Royal Churchill (600 yd., 2 mile relay), Mark Flynn (1000 yd., mile, 2 mile relay), Jeff Sinn (high jump, long jump, shot put), Karl Sussman (high jump, 2 mile).

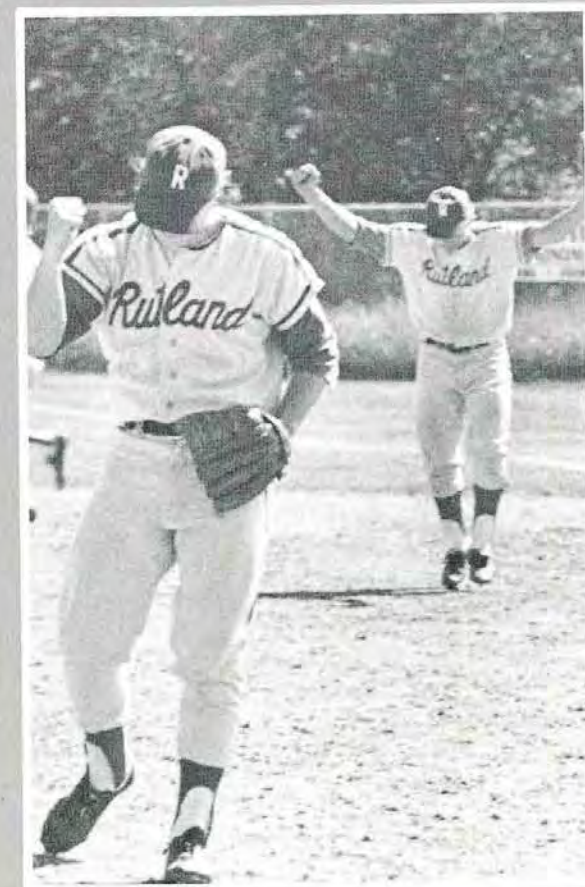

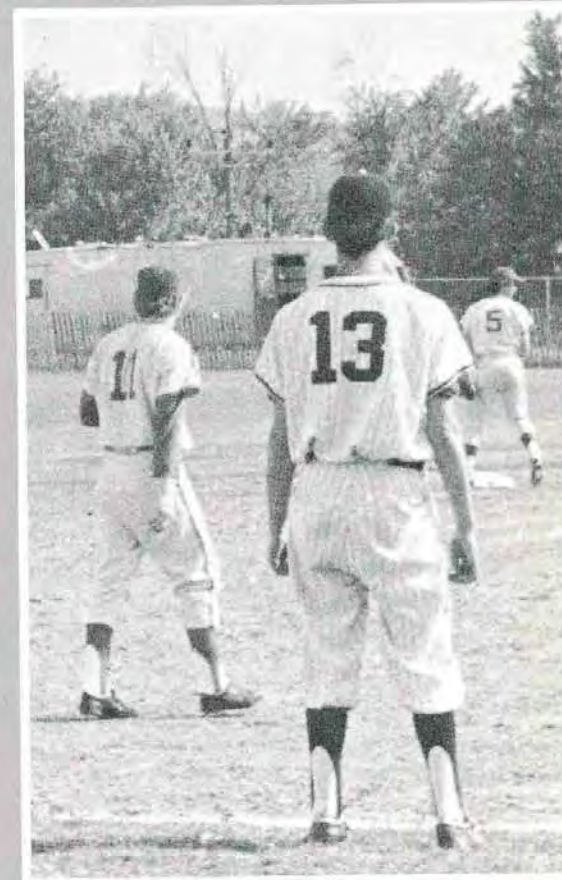

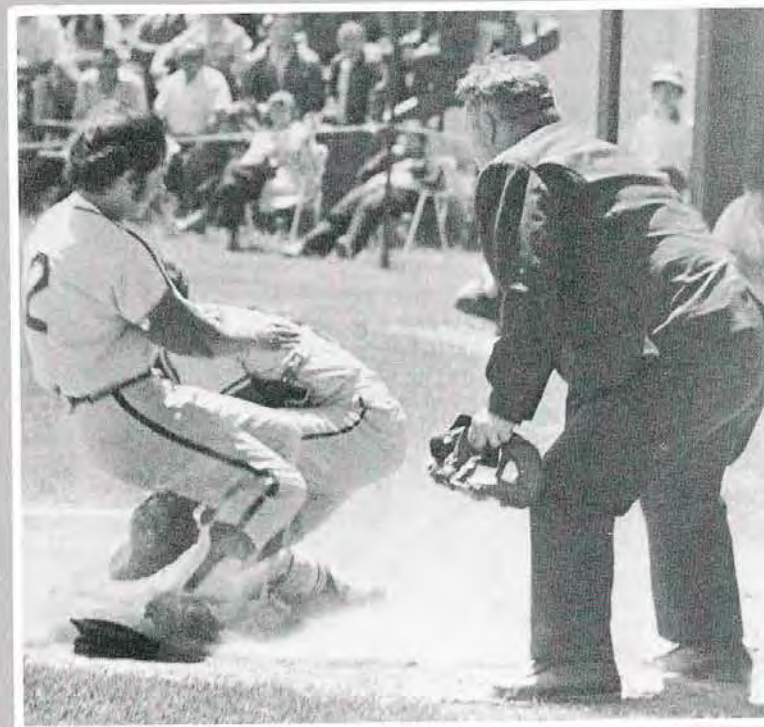

Other top performers include, Juniors: John Dolan (1000 yd., 2 mile relay), Rich Congdon (600 yd., 2 mile relay) Bob Horvath (300 yd.), Duane Larsen (50 yd, 300 yd, long jump, mile relay), Jeff Loso (1000 yd., shot put), Tom MacCarty (1000 yd), Pete McClure (50 yd., 300 yd, mile relay), John Olson (300 yd.), and Willy Phillips (shot put). (Nearly) Secret Salmon Budget: Test Due $146 Million

Lawmakers Told In 'Private Briefing' That Spending Will Jump $14 Million.

By MAVIS DOYLE
Vermont Press Bureau

MONTPELIER — Gov. Thomas P. Salmon will recommend a General Fund budget of about $146 million for the next fiscal year, an increase of $14 million in General Fund spending over the current fiscal year.

Although the Salmon administration tried to keep the proposed budget secret until the governor delivers his budget message to the Legislature next week, it was leaked Tuesday that spending for state programs next year will run about $10 million ahead of the current year, under Salmon's recommendations.

In addition, he will ask that $3 million of the additional revenue be earmarked for his property tax relief program and another $1.7 million for a pay raise for state employees.

Gov. Salmon has earmarked the largest increase in the recommended budget to pay for social welfare and mental health programs and for state aid to education. He has recommended small increases to the University of Vermont, the Vermont State Colleges, the educational television network and the Vermont Student Assistance Corp.

He has held most of the departments at level spending next year, with the exception of the Environmental Conservation Agency, the Human Services Agency and the Education Department.

The largest single budget increase recommended by Salmon was for the Social Welfare Department, but that agency was not allocated as much money as it had requested.

Salmon has recommended a $3.2 million budget increase to meet the increased demands on welfare programs. This would bring the state appropriation of $21.1 million for the current fiscal year to $24.3 million for the next fiscal year.

The department asked for $25.1 million. He has recommended an additional $2.1 million for the Mental Health Department to bring the state appropriation for mental health including Waterbury State Hospital and Brandon Training School, from $13.3 million this year to $15.4 million next fiscal year.

Salmon's recommendation for mental health is $2.7 million less than the $11.1 million the department requested.

Salmon also recommended an additional $3.8 million for the Education Department, but most of the increase would be for state aid to education, education of handicapped children and education of children with learning disabilities.

He has recommended a $1.3 million appropriation for elementary and secondary education for next year, a large increase over the $47.7 million appropriation for the current year. But much less than the $50.6 million requested by the state Education Board.

The Democratic governor earmarked $32 million of the total recommended $51.3 million education budget for state aid to education.

That would add $1.8 million to the $30.5 million in state aid distributed last month to Vermont's 246 school districts.

Although the increase recommended by Salmon for the state's educational television network appears to be small—only $250,000—it amounts to one of the largest percentage increases in the new budget.

The ETV network was held at almost level spending during the four years of the administration of Republican Gov. Deane C. Davis.

This year ETV had only $42,000 and had submitted a request for an additional $100,000. However, after the appeal

Directions On Senate Test Due

Investigators to Get Attorney General's Opinion.

By NICK MONSARRAT
Vermont Press Bureau

MONTPELIER — A special Senate committee investigating irregularities in the Chittenden County Senate election, will be told Wednesday how to proceed if it decides to call for a new election to decide a disputed seat now occupied by Burlington Republican Frederick P. Smith.

Atty. Gen. Kimberly B. Cheney promised the committee a new briefing meeting Tuesday afternoon, that was almost held in secret, that would present a legal opinion Wednesday afternoon on three election options the bipartisan committee has asked him to explore.

Cheney also made it clear that if the committee does decide to call for a new election, it must introduce special legislation in this General Assembly that would spell out the procedures to be used.

Such an action would assure that the already hotly debated election has been directly challenged by Burlington Democrat Frederick J. Fayette because of discrepancies, would be cast directly into the full legislative arena.

Up to now, the issue has been handled by the last legislative session for Fayette's petition calling for a new election.

Sen. Richard C. Sojka, D-Franklin-Grand Isle, chairman of the four-member bipartisan committee, said Tuesday the committee had still made no decision whether to recommend to the Senate that a new election be held.

But in light of Fayette's petition, and after sharply contested testimony on the conduct of the war and elections before the committee earlier in the day, Sojka Tuesday called on Cheney to replace the legal ramifications of three alternatives for a run-off election.

Calling for an early new election for all six Chittenden County Senate seats that are now held by five Democrats and one Republican, said Tuesday that the agency's enforcement program.

Bump Environmental Agency land-use and development administrator, said Tuesday that in the past some Vermont state's attorneys have failed to follow through on legal action he has recommended.

However, Bump said that since the three new investigators have been hired, no such recommendations have been made to any other county prosecutor.

Bump said his investigators have handled administratively all violations they've turned up thus far.

Said Bump: "What we do is to warn them, send the notice of violation to a person and he usually complies with the regulations in a month or two weeks and we're satisfied."

He added: "So far, all violations we've turned up haven't warranted further action. I would suspect there are violations that merit legal action."

The supervisor of the three environmental investigators is Inspector Supervisor John Miner of Montpelier.

His assistants are investigators Curtis Pinder of Rutland and James Dodge of Montpelier.

Senechal said Tuesday that the committee had hoped for an immediate response from Cheney Tuesday, but the new attorney general got a 24-hour delay, saying he would have two members of his staff investigate the legal ramifications of the three options.

But Cheney made it clear from the beginning that if either the House or Senate wishes to call for new elections for disputed seats, separate legislation geared to the specific cases must be introduced.

The House also has disputed seats that could result in a call for new elections, already recommended by former Atty. Gen. James M. Jeffords, in one case.

Cheney told the committee he wanted to take enough time researching the legal questions to ensure that if such run-off

Parallel Is Open For 'Pursuit'

U.S. Pilots, Have An OK to Chase North Vietnamese MIGs.

By WILLIAM BECHTOLD
Times News Service

WASHINGTON — Pentagon officials said Tuesday that American pilots were being permitted to cross the 20th Parallel in pursuit of North Vietnamese jets that attempt to attack United States B-52's and other bombers operating south of the 20th Parallel.

The sources, who were speaking privately, revealed that in one instance last Sunday an American F-4 Phantom, in chasing and shooting down a North Vietnamese MiG-21, crossed the line when President Nixon has again set as the northernmost limit of bombing in North Vietnam.

But in order to minimize the chances of incidents in the northern part of North Vietnam during the current round of peace talks in Paris, the sources said, U.S. pilots should not be permitted to chase MIGs in reconnaissance or to unmaneuvered photo drones which do not have to be protected by fighter escorts as do low-flying reconnaissance planes and to SR-71 spy planes. These fly at about 80,000 feet, beyond the range of North Vietnamese air defense missiles and aircraft.

The officials noted that during the 20th Parallel, from Oct. 23 to Dec. 18, 1972, reconnaissance was similarly restricted to avoid an incident where an RF-4 might be shot at in the Hanoi-Haiphong area and call for strikes by accompanying jet fighters.

Following closed-door briefings by Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff for the House Military Appropriations Committee and Armed Services Committee, the congressional leaders reported that the admiral said he had not been a member of the Sept. 18-19, 1972, HONV, HCV, was among the many other members of Congress who called for better controls on fund prices, saying that the "strategic increase in wholesale prices" threatens to undermine the government's economic stabilization program.

The law under which controls have been in effect since mid-1971 expires April 30. The Nixon administration has not yet announced what changes it will make, but it is generally expected to propose less extensive controls than exist now.

Ziegler said that the steps that would be taken to increase the supply of food had not yet been decided.

The official Labor Department figures showed that the rise in the prices of farm products, processed foods and feeds, had increased 2.2 percent in December, after adjustment to eliminate normal seasonal change, and a 3.6 percent without the adjustment.

President Nixon at 60.

President Is Sixty; His War Is Four

By JOHN HERBERS
Times News Service

WASHINGTON — President Nixon quietly observed his 62nd birthday Tuesday in continued seclusion and isolation so far as his contact with the Vietnam War is concerned.

But if aides who have been in close contact with the President have been saying for the last few days, publicly and privately, that the November landslide election was a mandate for Nixon to conduct the war and negotiations as he feels he must without being by Congress and his critics.

This impression was reinforced by Nixon's meeting on Friday with congressional leaders in which he said he was determined to do what he thought was necessary to achieve "the proper kind of settlement."

On Sunday, Herbert O. Klen, director of communications for the executive branch, said to the National Broadcasting Company's "Meet the Press" television show that the President had a very clear mandate to proceed in the way that he has in Vietnam.

At the same time, a number of White House aides are reported to be somewhat surprised and intrigued at the degree of isolation that Nixon has imposed on himself since the election, beginning with long November days of private talks on the sidelines of the New Year.

Monday, Nixon agreed to an interview with Helen Thomas of United Press International and Frances Lewis of Associated Press, with questions restricted to the subject of his becoming 60. It was largely a monologue with the President observing that De Gaulle, Churchill and Adenauer were strong leaders at advanced ages, but with no revelation of the President's inner feelings at this stage of his presidency.

At a White House briefing Tuesday, Sarah McClendon, the president's press secretary, said that the President's national security adviser, and a member of the North Vietnamese Politburo, are scheduled to meet again Wednesday afternoon at the French Communist Party's villa in Col-sur-Vevey.

In keeping with the agreement in alternate sites, Tuesday's meeting was more altered than 11 chosen by the Americans. It is in St. Naim-la-Bryche, on the edge of a golf course. It belongs to a French businessman who has lived in France since 1948.

In the December series, the Americans and a lower in Saigon, owned by Arnold Clark, an American-born, Parisian Jew, the moved to a hotel at the end of that round, expressing his delight at the possibility that an historic accord was to be signed in his house. Apparently he has resumed occupancy.

At St. Naim-la-Bryche Tuesday, Kissinger continued the publicly cool attitude adopted for the new round started Monday. Kissinger arrived first at the villa and did not appear at the door either to welcome or bid farewell to the Americans.

Televized handshakes and smiles constituted the major public view of the earlier series of talks, and added to the disappointment when they broke down.

The separate technical talks on details of a ceasefire continued Tuesday, the seventh day of the intensive negotiations that "they will also be held Wednesday."

Price Spurt Is Sharpest In 2 Decades

Increase of 1.6 Per Cent Is Recorded In Wholesale Index for December.

By EILEEN SHANAHAN

WASHINGTON — Wholesale prices increased in December at a pace unequalled since the inflationary surge that followed the start of the Korean War.

The index of wholesale prices, published Tuesday by the Labor Department, rose 1.6 per cent during the month, after adjustments were made to eliminate the influence of regularly recurring, purely seasonal factors. Without the seasonal adjustment, the rate was 1.8 per cent.

By either measure, the increase was the largest since early 1951.

Although by far the major portion of the upsurge came in the seasonal adjustment, the White House reiterated its opposition to any attempt to control these prices at the farm gate.

Ronald L. Ziegler, the White House press secretary, promised that the administration would take "further steps" to deal with food prices by increasing the supply of certain foods, such as grains whose production is currently limited by law. Some such steps, such as suspension of import quotas on meat, have already been taken.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Texas, chairman of the House Committee that will have to write a new price and wage control law this year, said he would study the possibility of requiring controls on the prices of unprocessed foods. At present, controls begin only with the first sale by a processor.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., was among the many other members of Congress who called for better controls on food prices, saying that the "strategic increase in wholesale prices" threatens to undermine the government's economic stabilization program.

The law under which controls have been in effect since mid-1971 expires April 30. The Nixon administration has not yet announced what changes it will make, but it is generally expected to propose less extensive controls than exist now.

Retail Food Outlook Is Up, Up, Up

Prices Now Expected To Rise at 50 Per Cent Faster Rate.

By DON KENDALL
WASHINGTON (AP)

Housewives, already running up record bills at supermarket, can expect food prices to rise 30 per cent faster this year than previous experts have been predicting.

Earlier optimism that retail food prices might gain only 3 per cent in the first half of 1973 was shattered Tuesday by an announcement that wholesale farm prices in December rose the most for a single month in 28 years.

Don Paulberg, director of economics for the Agriculture Department, told a reporter by telephone that the "supermarket" price index is expected to rise at an annual rate of 50 per cent, though midway, about the cost for 1973.

"We haven't done any projecting beyond midyear, but prices are rising very fast," he said. "We simply don't know what will happen after that."

As recently as last November the department predicted supermarket food prices would rise only 3 per cent this year. Paulberg said the wholesale price rise, announced by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, was expected.

Last month USDA reported farm prices went up 5 per cent, the sharpest one-month gain since 1946. The December increase in farm wholesale prices was 3.6 per cent, the highest since 1947.

Poor harvests were a big factor last fall when it rained the normal orderly flow of crops to markets, Paulberg said. Also, farmers have been turning out fewer hogs while consumer demand for meat has been climbing.

Farm prices are not subject to government price control but low consumer pressure is being put on the White House for action.

"I think the issue will heat up again, unfortunately," Paulberg said. "But it would be harmful to the public in the long run."

Administration price officials say price restraints were imposed last year because of a move to increase production to meet rising demand.

Henry T. Badger, a USDA food price specialist, said December wholesale price increase is bound to mean higher retail food prices although it is
